

Growing in Forgiveness: A Practice of Spiritual Freedom

Marjorie Thompson

APRIL 27 & 28, KENILWORTH, IL

In the early 1700s, Alexander Pope wrote “To err is human; to forgive, divine.” Yet we continue to struggle with what it means to forgive and be forgiven. The subject of forgiveness is often complicated and ensnared in misunderstanding. We often feel stuck, even imprisoned, by feelings of pain, anger, and desire for retribution when we or those we love have suffered significant harm. How do we move toward the freedom and healing of authentic forgiveness? Join Marjorie Thompson to gain a deeper understanding of the nature and practice of forgiveness and learn how to cut through some of the confusion surrounding it.

DATE: Friday, April 27 from 7 pm to 9 pm;
Saturday, April 28 from 9 am to 12:30 pm.

Marjorie Thompson holds ordination in the Presbyterian Church, USA. Her ministry comprises 30 years of work with congregations, seminaries, and church agencies, often crossing denominational lines. In each setting, her deeper call has been to interpret, teach and guide Christians in a deeper understanding and practice of personal and corporate spiritual disciplines. She has authored several books, including the best-selling Soul Feast, and has served as chief architect for Companions in Christ, a series of small group resources in spiritual formation.
